My name is "ESLU" (Essex Spirit Lifter-Upper). My duty is to promote "school spirit" within the student body. I attend various football, volleyball, soccer and

basketball games,
dressed in my school
colours of red, black and gold. I also support the cheerleaders who encourage our teams to victory.

Mr. Garinger, don't strain your muscles!

High-stepping majorettes lead off

Doubtfuls or Hopefuls?

Our Male Prom Queen

I'll get my quarter's worth!

Eat your hearts out Girls!

Picture shy poppy

A bit of Munchkinland in Essex

Poppies blooming in the Land of Oz.

There is good and bad in everything!

Any time, fellas

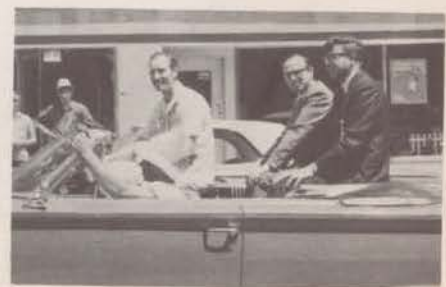

Jim, you lucky chauffeur!

Miss Ronnie a hopeful.

The leaders participate?

Will lucky 13 "bee" queen?

Plan ahead.
Take it with you!

Mr. P.G. VanderVoort, Principal

If people grew up emotionally as effortlessly as they grow up physically, life would be less difficult.

Physically, people are like weeds; even in a most hostile environment man matures without much cultivation or care. Emotionally, however, many persons never advance beyond the state of childhood.

Emotional maturity is not automatic but requires constant effort on the part of the individual. This effort is imperative to the individual's mental and social well-being if he is to acquire emotional stability.

What, then, are some of the qualities a person should develop to become emotionally mature?

Priority in this quest must be assigned to the control of the emotions. Emotions must be displayed if we are to be classed as human. Such things, however, as extreme anger under the slightest provocation, deep depression or sulkiness over the most insignificant criticism or slight are anything but the attributes of a mature person! Can any extreme reaction to a given situation reflect emotional maturity?

A sense of responsibility and a proper sense of values are also signs of maturity. To exaggerate what is unimportant, to minimize what really matters or to place personal comforts over the demands of duty are all signs of a child in a man's body.

For the mature person, life is not, nor does it have to be, a constant round of pleasures. Trials and tragedies are understood as part of the human condition. Reliance upon drugs or desire for unwarranted sympathy are not needed to buoy up the stable person.

Do not let the all too prevalent disregard for authority and established traditions or the insistent demands for complete freedom, regardless of the consequences, lure you into thinking that these are the signs of maturity.

The mature person can differentiate between what should be changed and what must remain unchanged and act accordingly.

How do you measure up? Will you grow up -- emotionally?

Mr. G.H. Alles

Eighty-five years - whether in the life of an individual or an institution - is a long time. This year Essex District High School celebrates its eighty-fifth anniversary as an institution of learning.

The response of many of the student body is "so what?" For them the past has no relevance. After all this is the "now" generation.

However, like it or not, students of Essex District High School, in this school year 1969-70, are linked inextricably to the past. Many students have attended Essex District High School since that opening day in 1885. Many more will attend in years to come.

There have been many who have distinguished themselves in professional, business, and diplomatic careers. You the students of 1969-70 are now a part of that history. I would only urge that you take your cue from those in the past who have gone on to achieve honour for both themselves and their school.

Fires of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

-Longfellow

VOLLEYBALL

The Junior and Senior girls' volleyball teams ended up with identical 3-3 records. The Juniors were fortunate enough to be in a play-down with Kingsville for the final play-off position. However, after a tremendous effort they were put down to defeat. Both teams deserve credit for devoting their time and skill to a well-played season.

"Red Raiders" basketball team rebounded from last season's nightmare to an encouraging second place finish this year. Although we lost out in league play-offs, our hopes for the future are not dim. Returning varsity players, the influx of talent from the junior varsity team and a new found optimism point towards an even greater year next year.

Dynasties are said to no longer exist, but the Essex Red Raiders are proving the slogan wrong. This year the Raiders won nine straight games, winning the SWOSSA championship by beating Chatham-Tecumseh, 13-6. This was the 18th consecutive game that the team has won.

The combination of a hard-nosed defence and a potent offense made the unbeatable. The defence held opposing teams to a mere four points a game while the offense scored an average of 21 points a game.

The team was fortunate in having both ability and the key to everything--"desire and dedication".

Graduation, new school boundaries, and being "up" when you play the reigning champions are factors which add to the difficulty of maintaining our dynasty.

ESSEX TRAVELS

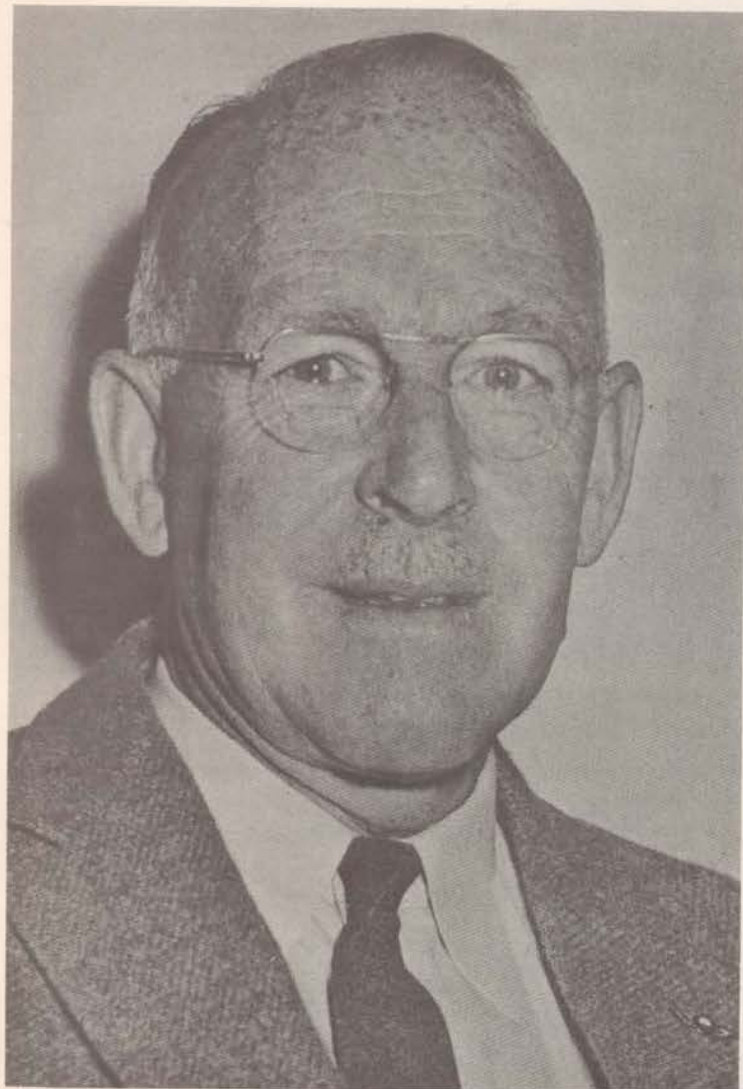

At the first of the new year, Mr. Kuszowski took a group of students to Kentucky on a field trip. They visited the Rainbow Dome, one of the many geographical features in that area.

The Grade 11 students visited Oil Springs.

Under the supervision of Mr. Kuszowski and Mr. Rusk, the Gr. 11, 12 and 13's visited the Bruce Peninsula last June during the last week of school.

DR. ROBERT McCLURE

Senior students were exposed to the moderator of the United Church of Canada. In a brief address, followed by a question period, Dr. McClure reflected upon 'the shrinking globe'. Dr. McClure's visit, his unmistakably candid commitment to Christianity, the efficacy of his words must be deemed the highlight of this year.

OTHER HAPPENINGS AT ESSEX

Remember when we had the big fire across the street at Frenchie's garage. The mayor of Essex was there surveying the damage as was the entire population of Essex and the school.

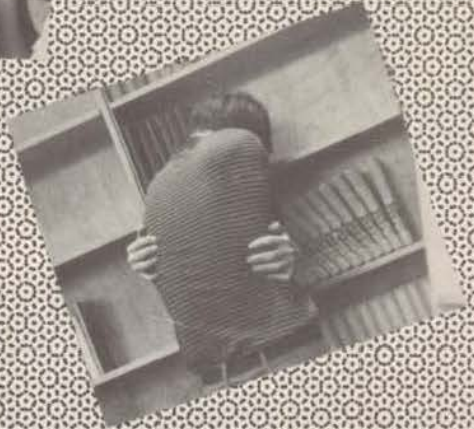

Bonnie Field of 12B was the senior winner for the City of Windsor and Essex County Prepared Public Speaking. Honourable mention goes to Gary Wells. Congratulations!

The Student Council entertains the students with their version of the Mickey Mouse Club. Shown here is the good little fairy, Bonnie Burling of 12B.
